Aug. 13.

Slowly, women were outside setting camp. We were an anti-trust to act as such, we were Cheyennes. We were trumps of the men at home. The women prepared for us to come. We started, and heard the Cheyennes come after us. They were many riders. My brother in front, then me next, then my other brother, then my sister. We rode west back to home. All others fleeing. I took brother up Cheyenne fort with him and went back. I thought no more for us. I had four in my belt. Pulled it out. I began shooting and Cheyennes scattered. Some 5 riders on stand by. Little Dog cut off. Cheyennes behind. Little Dog, Cheyennes fired. They made shot in back. I whipped horse. Then Little Dog got off horse. I started to get back on. Little Dog started shoot. Started to me. I was shot out. I heard bullets fired into the Cheyennes.
This is a handwritten page from a document. The text contains a narrative about a horse and horseback riding. The handwriting is cursive and includes various descriptive details about the scene. The text discusses the actions of a person who is riding a horse and interacting with other horses and people. The narrative is in English and describes a series of events leading to a confrontation or interaction involving a horse named Chief and another named Old Person.

The text reads:

"Today, horse, reached my hand out. Got left. Horse. If he had, I didn't. We're in a fight. Jumped off horse. At same time Chief jumped off. Jumped off to surge. Horse. I heard shot. Chief, off horse. I ran for more and went back. Jumped on. Off. A Chief man on horse. He's on my horse. I aimed a shot at man ahead. Shot. Know I hit him. Tumed to look at brother. My horse was out and my gun all in. I did my best. We chased them to their lodges in these trunks. I saw an Ox, a big horse and let the horse go. Small Wolf killed one of them. After last I fired. Small Wolf shot and got him. Jack happened to run into thick brush and we had to quit. We found back and found some other.

We killed and I killed. I killed 70 as.

Chefe decided to go to Oklahoma then. We went and Chefe went to town, then I went to Red River city.

We met at Elbow Creek. We find herd and we killed the 2000.

We killed, yes, Chief and Women. Her husband was Chief Old Man.

After the 50 came we helped with men moving to Willow Springs, on the Arapahos. At the fall of the year came the winter, 11 men of our band. They were footed with boots and had 200 buffalo robe and 10 blankets and 10 buffalo robes. They stood in the fall of the year and 10 blankets and 10 buffalo robes. They stood in the fall of the year.

We took the buffalo meat, sought, took buffalo meat from them. We killed many buffalo and we gathered to fight the buffalo. Since the times 5 men went out of the woods. They came out of the woods with knives, shot and shot at them. We were glad to get them. Big Jakes brother Big Jakes killed young buffalo. We were for buffalo meat. We killed. Big Jakes shouted: "They are killing buffalo. Rush in on them." Big Jakes said. The first who jumped in buffalo had the buffalo out as another hit in his legs. Finally killed all, so there were none more killed."

"Big Jakes was no man of words, that for several days more made fire in their lodges nor ate.
